Truman On Way to Europe

Two Cruiser Task Force Carrying President's Party Across Atlantic

By Ernest B. Vaccaro

ABOARD CRUISER AUGUSTA WITH PRESIDENT TRUMAN, July 11—(P)—President Truman began whipping into final form today a mass of data he will present to the Big Three meeting at Potsdam next week.

He called Secretary of State James F. Byrnes and Admiral William D. Leahy into the Augusta's admiral's cabin, where former President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill held the most of their Atlantic charter conferences in the ominous days of 1941.

There, for several hours, the three, assisted by diplomatic and military experts, worked over an accumulation of documents.

While plans for a visit to London after the meeting with Premier Stalin and Prime Minister Churchill still are tentative, the president has no plans at all for visiting France.

Accompanying the Augusta, a battle tested veteran, is the equally famous cruiser, the Philadelphia, which acted as General George S. Patton's mobile artillery support when he moved from Palermo into Messina to end the Sicilian campaign. She shot up bridges, knocked down planes and even took out enemy tanks with her big guns.

Finds a Cousin

The Augusta served as the flagship of Rear Admiral Alan Kirk's Normandy task force on D-day.

Strolling around her decks yesterday, the president came across a third cousin, Lawrence Truman, Owensboro, Ky., fire control man, second class, who introduced himself and established their kinship. The president invited the sailor to his cabin for another talk this afternoon.

It was disclosed today that several British men of war will form an escort for the American ships when they reach the British Isles and remain with them until the president arrives at a northern European port from which he will fly to the conference scene in the big C-54 plane which he likes to call "The Sacred Cow."

No Independent Agreements

He is going into the conference without prior consultation with Churchill, apparently with a view to assuring the Russians he has no intention of making any independent agreements, even on a tentative nature.

Correspondents aboard the Augusta still are not permitted to disclose the president's disembarkation port or the time of his likely arrival there.

After witnessing gunnery practice yesterday, the president visited the deck in the afternoon to watch shuffleboard play. Later he attended a movie.

Mr. Truman holds high hopes his Potsdam talks with Prime Minister Churchill and Premier Stalin not only will chart the course of lasting European peace but speed an Allied victory over Japan as well.

Two-Cruiser Task Force

A two-cruiser task force is carrying the chief executive and his party across the Atlantic.

In the group — smallest staff ever to accompany a president to such a meeting — are secretary of state James F. Byrnes, Fleet Admiral William D. Leahy, the president's personal chief of staff, and his military and naval aides, Brig. Gen. Harry H. Vaughan and Capt. James K. Vardaman. Also in the party are Press secretary Charles G. Ross, H. Freeman Matthews, director of the state department's office of European affairs; Charles E. Bohlen, the department's expert on Russia; Benjamin V. Cohen of Byrnes' staff and Capt. Alphonse McMahon, a naval surgeon assigned to look after the health of the travelers.

Opponents of Charter are Given Hearing

One Woman Talked Over Allotted Time, Left With Policeman

WASHINGTON, July 10—(P)—Opponents of the United Nations charter trooped before the senate foreign relations committee today as Chairman Connally (D-Tex.) expressed confidence that any restrictive amendments would be beaten down.

The first opposition witness, Mrs. Agnes Waters of Washington, D. C., was escorted from the committee table by policemen when she attempted to continue after her allotted time had expired.

"What we need is a good old fashioned American revolution," Mrs. Waters shouted as she left.

Mrs. Waters, a familiar figure at congressional committee hearings, said she represented the National Blue Star mothers. She denounced the charter as an "international fraud."

Other Opponents

Other opposition witnesses included Mrs. Cecil Broy of Arlington, Va., representing Americans United, Inc., who said the charter would lead to "empire rule," and the Rev. J. Paul Cotton, Cleveland, representing the World Peace Forum, who declared that "There is something sinister in the speed" of senate action on the pact.

Ely Culbertson, bridge expert, submitted a statement declaring the only effective way to prevent aggression is to establish a world wide limitation of heavy armament and an international police force.

As the foreign relations committee he heads arranged to hear an abbreviated lineup of opposition witnesses, Connally told reporters he is ready to face the issue of charter amendments now, adding:

"We've got the votes to knock them down."

Connally's estimate was supported by Senator Wheeler (D-Mont) who said in a separate interview he did not believe any reservations would obtain a majority vote.

Grand Jury May Call Omahans

OMAHA, July 11—(P)—Two Omahans who were arrested early in June in what OPA said was an attempt to uncover one of the Midwest's largest black market rings were free today of conspiracy charges but may have to face a grand jury.

The men are Albert F. Sulley, who was in charge of ration accounts at a local bank, and Odie J. Ray, Omaha barber. U. S. Commissioner M. O. Cunningham yesterday dismissed conspiracy charges and also freed Sulley of a charge of embezzling 50,000 red meat points from the bank. Action was deferred on charges against Ray of unlawful possession of coupons and attempting to convert them to his own use.

Bea Linney, of route 1, Stover, is a patient at the Bothwell hospital, suffering from a broken right leg, received when a tree trunk, which he was trimming, fell on his leg. It is broken below the knee.

The accident happened at his home.

Troopships Arrive

NEW YORK, July 11—(P)—Eight troopships, including the big liners Queen Mary and West Point, steamed into New York harbor today returning more than 35,000 cheering soldiers to their homeland.

Public Must Understand Food Problem

Ate So Well Last Year, Don't Have Reserve Stock Now

NEW YORK, July 11—(P)—Secretary of Agriculture Anderson appealed today for public understanding of the food problem and promised to report whether shortages resulted from the failure of nature or "official negligence or stupidity."

"I have no sympathy with the notion," he said, "that it is any part of the function of a public official to protect the people from the truth."

In a speech prepared for delivery before the advertising federation of America, the new secretary said the nation and the world must realize that the demand for food exceeds the supply.

"America can't feed the world," he said. "We've got to make that clear and positive from the outset or we are inviting an awful lot of misunderstanding, trouble and ill will. . . . But we must do what we can."

Anderson said that the country is facing the fact that "many items of what America loves as its daily diet are in short supplies." He added:

"We are eating into our reserve stock of meat, poultry, eggs, sugar, lard and canned goods. The public can be told this because at the same time we know our people will not starve. There is enough nutritious food for an ample though different diet even if it doesn't include what you and I have been taught to like."

One of the reasons for the short supply, Anderson said, is the fact that "our people ate so well last year, ate so far into our stock piles, that we don't have much reserves now."

Stating that his would not be "a bare shelf policy for fear of surpluses" the food chief said he would press for maximum production. He said, however, that the government must be prepared to protect farmers from the economic ills of possible surpluses.

Farmers Want Assurance

"The congress and the department of agriculture had been promising that for some time after the war their prices would be protected. The farmer has heard these promises and he wants assurance that 'their redeemer liveth'."

Anderson disclosed that he has started discussions with other government agencies looking toward the eventual elimination of food subsidies.

Discussing the sugar shortage, he said this country must look to domestic producers for increased supplies because foreign producing areas "either have reached their peak or are hampered by the war."

Eligible for Top Pension

WASHINGTON, July 11—(P)—Uncle Sam stands ready to provide $265 monthly to help M/Sgt. Fredrick Hensel, his first nephew to become a quadruple battle amputee in this war, start that little chicken farm.

That's the maximum pension payable to war veterans. And Hensel will be eligible for the maximum as soon as he is discharged from the army, a Veterans Administration official said today.

The Corbin, Ky., veteran whose legs were blown off above the knee and his left arm above the elbow when he stepped on a mine on Okinawa June 2, now is in the Army hospital at Battle Creek, Mich. Army doctors amputated his right hand after unsuccessful efforts to save it.

Farm Laborers From Delmo Project Oppose Being Sold out

WASHINGTON, July 11—(P)—Farm laborers from the Delmo housing project in southeast Missouri are seeking congressional aid in an attempt to prevent their homes from being sold by the Farm Security Administration at auction July 24.

They expressed an unwillingness to return to their former lives as sharecroppers. They told the house agriculture subcommittee they had found "new hope" in the Delmo community and desired to own their own homes.

A bill under consideration authorizes the secretary of agriculture to sell 580 houses of long terms to present residents and other farm worker families who desire to purchase them. Farm security administration officials have advertised the project for sale July 24.

Vice Admiral's Hat 'Was Filthy,' so Woman Made New One for Him

LOS ANGELES, July 11—(P)—Mrs. Helen Sampson made the anorthodox headgear which is worn by Vice Admiral John S. McCain and known as his "lucky cap" as he stands on his flagship off Japan and invites the Nipponese to come on out and fight.

Mrs. Sampson, wife of McCain's former Washington aide, Commander W.S. Sampson, says the admiral asked her to do a repair job on his hat.

"It was so filthy I made him a new one," she told a reporter.

ODT Order on Transporting Race Horses

WASHINGTON, July 11—(P)—Transportation of race horses or show animals by railroads and common or contract motor carriers was prohibited today by the Office of Defense Transportation.

An order prohibiting rail transportation was issued by the interstate commerce commission at the request of ODT director J. Monroe Johnson. The exception requires ICC permits.

Johnson asked the commission to "restrict the transportation of race horses and show animals by railroads in order to expedite the movement of troops, materials of war and civilian supplies needed for the successful prosecution of the war."

ICC said the ban will become effective 6 p. m., Eastern War Time, today and will expire at 12:01 a. m. EWT July 1, 1946.

The ICC explained the ban does not include circus animals moved under contract with the railroads. Animals shipped in freight cars as ordinary livestock also are not subject to restrictions, an ICC official said, but persons using private cars in ordinary freight service for the purpose must file affidavits with the ICC.

Collection of Tin Sunday

Clean can well and soak off label. Cut both ends and flatten firmly. Tuck cut off ends in can.

The city-wide tin can collection will be held in Sedalia Sunday afternoon, when trucks will be sent out through the residence district to pick up the prepared cans from the curb. Cans must be prepared as above, because if they are not they damage the other tin, and must be sorted out and discarded.

Loan Richardson will again be in charge of this collection. He asks all who can volunteer trucks for use to telephone the Chamber of Commerce, phone 395, and list their names. The drivers are then asked to meet at Main street and Washington avenue Sunday, at 1:00 o'clock, to receive instructions and begin their trips.

'Horror Camps' In Pictures

Congressman Marion T. Bennett has announced that during the July recess of congress he will bring to Pettis county official army signal corps motion pictures showing the German "horror camps" which he visited recently at the request of General Dwight D. Eisenhower. The congressman plans two programs which will be given at Sedalia, Saturday, July 21st in the Smith-Cotton high school auditorium. These pictures will be shown at two o'clock in the afternoon and again at eight o'clock in the evening.

The meetings are non-political, admission is free and everybody is invited.

Traffic Case

Ray Littick, 708½ South Ohio avenue, charged with careless and reckless driving, pleaded guilty in police court this morning and was fined $25 by Magistrate C. W. Bente. He was arrested Tuesday in the 1500 block on West Main street after his car ran into a ditch.

Traffic Cases

Three overtime parkers forfeited one-dollar bonds in police court this morning when they failed to appear before Judge C. W. Bente. They were Ralph Arnold, 1310 East Tenth street, William K. Graham, 720 South Massachusetts avenue and Mrs. Ellsworth Green, 608½ South Grand avenue.

Charles Allen, 305 East Jefferson street, forfeited a cash bond on a charge of not having his 1945 city automobile license sticker.

Tokyo Confident Terrific Air Assaults Precede Invasion; Fires Generate Hot Currents

Flip Superfort Over on its Back, Heading it Back Toward Targets

By Leif Erickson

TINIAN, Marianas Islands, July 11—(P)—Thermal air currents generated by fires B-29s started in Wakayama yesterday were so strong they shoved the incendiaries right back into one superfort through its own bomb bay.

Maj. Robert H. Langdale of Houston, Tex., said today that just after his bombardier had released all incendiaries, fused and ready to burst into flame, the hot air sent them crashing upwards into his B-29. They tore away a bomb bay door and hit the plane's horizontal stabilizer, but fell out again without doing any major damage to the plane.

Climaxing the eerie experience, powerful updrafts of scorching hot air flipped the superfort over on its back in a half loop heading the plane back over the burning targets.

The plane was flying belly up for several seconds until Langdale brought it under control and back on its course for a safe return to Tinian.

Like Horror Picture

"Turmoil sure raged inside the plane," Lt. Richard C. Baskett of Holton, Kas., said, "when the bombs bounced up into the bomb bay."

"Water flasks and loose equipment were floating around in the air and sometimes hit us when we weren't looking. It was just like actually being in the middle of one of those horror motion pictures."

But then the backflip turned the Torne over so suddenly," said Lt. Louis Avrami of Atlantic City, N. J., "that when I looked down through the bomb bay, expecting to see fires, I saw stars and the moon because I was actually looking up."

"Then I turned my head and thought I was looking upward but I saw fires. For a brief moment I wondered if I were dead."

Guest Member Club Speaker

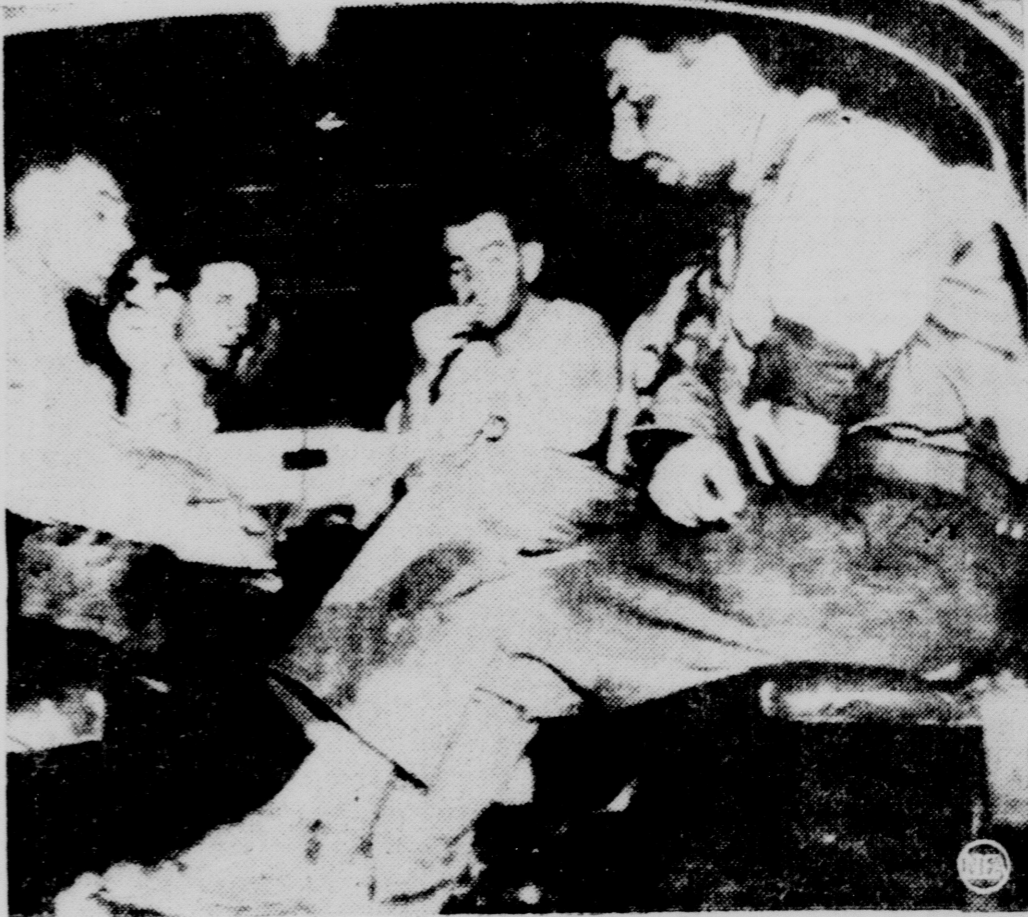

The Sedalia Lions club met Wednesday noon at the Bothwell hotel at which time Sam Highleyman, member of new Sedalia Post 342, American Legion, was the principal speaker. The meeting was presided over by Adolph Glenn, newly elected president.

Mr. Highleyman used as his subject "Why the American Legion Advocates Universal Military Training." He told of a bill now pending in congress sponsored by the Legion in regard to this training.

Sergeant Albert Zurcher, a member of the local club who is on military leave, was a guest of the club today. Sergeant Zurcher has been overseas for thirty months and is spending a forty-five day furlough in Sedalia before returning for reassignment.

It was announced the club will hold a picnic on Thursday, April 26, at which members are urged to invite guests. Carl F. Urban is the chairman on arrangements for the annual affair.

About 4,000 Federal Tax Stamps Sold Here

Approximately 4,000 federal use tax stamps for motor vehicles have been sold at the Sedalia post office, about the usual number since the annual tax went into effect several years ago, officials said.

The stamps, which expire June 30, 1946, became due July 1. Motorists driving without the stamps on their vehicles are subject, from today on, to a penalty of $5 to $25.

They went on sale the middle of last month.

Very Few Enemy Planes in the Air. Only 154 Accounted For by Americans

By Leonard Millman Associated Press War Editor

Enemy broadcasts said today the mighty U. S. 3rd Fleet withdrew from Japanese home waters after sending 1,200 carrier planes swarming over Tokyo airdromes for 12 hours yesterday, but warned that the raiders might return at any moment.

Tokyo said "about 150" Okinawa-based fighters carried on the unremitting air attack today, sweeping suicide airdromes on Kyushu island of southern Japan.

The Mikado's air force made no announced attack on the Third Fleet's task force 38 but for the first time in months hurled a handful of interceptors against the U. S. 14th Air Force ranging over Asia.

Chinese troops making the only substantial ground gains of the war occupied Sincing, former 14th USAF base roughly 200 miles north of Canton and drove toward Kanhien, another former American air base. Five airdromes have now been retaken by the resurgent Chinese.

Warships To South

While Adm. Chester W. Nimitz was silent on today's operations of Task Force 38, Tokyo reports said American warships withdrew "for some distance to the south." But the Japanese admitted the "task force is still in the seas in the vicinity of our homeland" and defenders were "on the alert against a possible follow-up raid."

Nipponese propagandists claimed 26 carrier aircraft were shot down by interceptors yesterday and asserted "almost no damages" were inflicted on the more than 70 airdromes bombed and strafed.

Preliminary reports from the task force said the attack accounted for at least 154 planes, including 72 definitely destroyed. This covered only the first six hours of the attack. Only two of the enemy planes were in the air, both reconnaissance planes scouting the daring American fleet.

Will Continue Raids

"strong United States air forces," Admiral Nimitz promised that based on conquered islands "with-in effective striking distance of Japan," will continue to hammer enemy shipping and defenses preparatory to further amphibious assaults.

Simultaneously, he announced Gen. Douglas MacArthur has assumed command of all army air forces based on Okinawa, incidental to regrouping American air power in the western Pacific "for greater operating efficiency."

Tokyo conceded American air forces held supremacy over the homeland, but commented "mastery of the air is not an absolute factor" in deciding the result of an invasion.

A current rumor in the Philippines has it that a lone Japanese plane rescued Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita, supreme Nipponese commander in the islands who once boasted he would make MacArthur surrender.

MacArthur reported Australian troops under his command made two new landings in the Balikpapan area of southeastern Borneo, "completing our control of the Balikpapan bay shore area." Other Aussies advanced a mile toward flaming oil fields and beat off two night infiltration attacks.

Japanese School Had Books To Teach Children English

GUAM—AP—The old Okinawa farmer had found his place in the sun but, recalling him now, it is hard to imagine what his last thoughts might have been about the shattered rising-sun emblem of Japan.

He was obviously a simple man and a poor one, for his black quilted kimono was tattered and dirty. He sprawled dead in the life-giving sun, surrounded by his cabbages, cane and carrots.

War, which had struck him down, had rolled southward on Okinawa. The warm sun was peaceful.

Memory of the old farmer came as I sorted odds and ends of Okinawa mementos. There was the little Japanese school text marked "Summer Exercises" for studying the English language. Printed prior to Pearl Harbor, it was used in Okinawa schools.

The pamphlet, described as for use as a refresher text during summer vacations, said in the first exercise: "Japan does not want China's land. Japan is fighting the government of Chiang Kai-shek, but the people of China are our friends."

Discourse on Weather There followed a discourse on weather. After that the text got right down to the business of war.

"Our airmen made a raid on Kunming. Kunming is a big city in Yunnan. It is through Yunnan that China now gets her foreign supplies." There was a picture of a Japanese bomber soaring over a smoking, ruined city.

Again on the lighter side were the exercises dealing with the seasons, riddles, crops—the old farmer probably had his own ideas about the latter—and bits of proverbial wisdom—even: "A man's home is his castle."

Then the Okinawans learning to read English were reminded: "Our slogan is Asia for the Asiatics," and, if their interest went farther afield: "Germany has the strongest air force. England is afraid of German air raids. Even the United States of America fears lest Germany should get an air base in South America from which she may attack New York."

Farmer Was Pleased Possibly the old farmer was pleased that his grandchildren had the opportunity to learn the English language from the Japanese-prepared pamphlet.

The pamphlet did not neglect to expound on the divine wisdom of the sacred Emperor of Nippon.

Did the old farmer accept that, too. There was no way to know. His face was inscrutable as he lay in his place, under nature's own warm sun.

And Phillips is going to have some interesting things to tell you (and show you) too!

Because a big part of our job the last five years has been to produce the 100-octane Aviation Fuel that has kept the big boys over Berlin and Tokio. And it hasn't always been an easy job.

In some ways it has involved almost as many trials and tribulations as a pilot goes through before he wins his wings. We've built vast new laboratories and staffed them with the wisest and most experienced scientists we could find. We've built new plants and introduced new processes. In short, we've gone "all out"—with every bit of brains and brawn we have—to give our fliers every ounce of precious 100-octane fuel that could be produced!

The result—today Phillips is one of the very biggest producers of 100-octane Aviation Fuel in the country! That's a mighty important fact—and one of which we're very proud.

And it's a significant fact, too—for every man and woman who plans to drive a car after the war. Because you can bet your bottom dollar that all the experience, all the know-how, all the scientific knowledge we've gained in becoming one of the largest producers of 100-octane gasoline—will be packed into the Phillips 66 Gasoline which powers your post-war car!

When you see the Phillips 66 Shield, remember—it stands for fuels for Victory today, and fuels for better driving tomorrow.

Okinawans are Forced to Attend School

One Reason to Keep Children From Hampering Traffic

By Bonnie Wiley

OKINAWA —(AP)— School attendance on Okinawa is being enforced by the American military government, partly to keep the children from hampering military traffic.

Young Okinawans quickly discovered that Americans are free-handed. They line the roads, unless they are kept in school, begging for candy with outstretched hands.

In school, they are being taught to speak English as well as Japanese.

Lt. Leroy Brown, former county school superintendent at Heflin, Ala., is in charge of one of the largest schools, located in a thatched-roof building of Kuga village. The sides are open. It has dry grass floors and no furniture.

Brown said the children were eager to speak English because "they like Americans."

They Like School

"They like school so much," he continued, "they want to be here all the time."

"We have no books, few pencils, little paper and one blackboard—for 800 pupils. But after two weeks, most of them have learned the English alphabet and the names of the days of the week."

"We have nine native women teachers and two native men."

One of the native principals said he thought the American way of teaching was an improvement over strict Japanese methods, which had emphasized bayonet

Charter Chapeau

What next in women's head-gear? Lynne Baggett of Hollywood models it above—a creation inspired by the United Nations Charter drawn up in San Francisco. It's a "charter" decorated with a symbolic quill pen. She wears a small replica of the hat on her gloves.

and sword drills and ju jitsu. The principal, who has been teaching 32 years, declared: "I teach my students respect and to be kind." He bowed almost to the ground, apparently as an example.

Instruct In Sanitation

Writing, reading, arithmetic, singing and obedience are stressed under AMG, with bayonets, swords and ju jitsu discarded. The little natives are instructed in sanitation by John W. Fowler, a navy shipfitter of Newport News, Va.

"These kids," he declared, "are anxious to learn American ways and pester me with questions all the time. They will keep themselves clean whenever they have the water to wash with."

Children, attempting to show off their new learning, stumble over "L" in the alphabet. But, with some difficulty, they get it out.

They are happy at games between classes but a distant blast, from American construction projects, will send them running to the teachers asking if the Japanese soldiers are coming back. They don't act as if they would want that.

Nazis Planned To Invade Sweden

STOCKHOLM, July 11—(AP)—Foreign Minister Christian Guenther said Tuesday that Hitler clearly intended to invade Sweden in February, 1942, concentrating troops in northern Germany for that purpose.

Guenther told interviewers that the Germans were supplied with Swedish dictionaries. He said warnings came from several sources and that the Swedish military mobilized so quickly that the Germans cancelled their plans. The Swedish minister in Berlin informed the Nazis during the crisis that Sweden intended to remain neutral.

Americans to Remember London's Park

Nowhere in the States is There Anything Like it

By Helen Camp
(Substituting for Hal Boyle)
LONDON.—(P)—Many a GI who's spent the last few years longing for Times Square or Main Street also is going to find himself homesick for London's Hyde Park.

Nowhere in the States is there anything like it.

London's poor have long used the marble arch corner of the miles-long greensward as their principal source of pleasure and principal outlet for freedom of speech.

And GIs are some of the most regular customers at the kind of disorganized county fair that springs up nightly—where the only restrictions are that you can't take up a collection or incite a riot and all you need to be an orator are a stepladder and a good pair of lungs.

Things To Remember
Over his Market street bourbon or Greenwich Village beer the soldier-turned-civilian will remember:

Singing "Rock of Ages" and "The Old Rugged Cross" in with a cross section of humanity clustered around an elderly gentleman with a Santa-Claus face and organlike voice.

Heckling ladder-mounted speakers who wave their arms and alternately talk quietly and argue hotly with the crowd.

Watching a sweet-faced Salvation Army girl speak softly from the depths of her red and blue bonnet.

Turning to stare at a red-faced man who wanders aimlessly about screaming, "Christ died to save us. . . You're not looking for a hole in the ground, you're looking for the Heavenly Father," until he, too, collects a crowd.

Unusual People
Standing in a circle about someone who shouts about "democracy" in barely-recognizable English.

Listening to the elderly Negro who sports a fantastic red-white-and-blue ostrich feather head-dress and uses large American English, Canadian, and Australian flags as fan-dancers use fans and shifts from religious tirades into shady stories about Yanks in Piccadilly Circus.

And, most of all, sprawling on the grass with English girls or strolling hand-in-hand into the shady, secluded stretches of the famed serpentine walk.

Yes, the GIs will miss Hyde Park.

Mrs. Glen Bailes Injured In A Fall

Mrs. Glen Bailes, 520 South Summit, became ill while at the Bailes Refrigeration Service, 112 East Third street, about 4:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon and fell, suffering a severe laceration on her head.

She was taken to the Bothwell hospital in McLaughlin's ambulance and was attended by Dr. J. E. Mitchell.

Mrs. Bailes was rendered unconscious in the fall but by evening had regained consciousness and later was reported resting comfortably.

Mrs. John Walje and infant daughter, Mary Agnes, born at the Bothwell hospital, Monday, July 2, left the hospital today and are at the home of Mrs. Walje's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Smith, 500 Dal-Whi-Mo court, where they will remain for a while before

Confesses To A Knife Slaying

ST. LOUIS, July 11.—(P)—Detective Capt. Martin T. Cliffe said Tuesday night a 35-year-old Negro ex-convict had orally confessed the butcher knife slaying of a young waitress and a knife attack upon a war widow.

Cliffe identified the man as Van Lee Ramsey who was arrested early Tuesday after he was reported following a young woman in south St. Louis.

Cliffe said Ramsey at first denied all connection with either attack, but later confessed when confronted with a butcher knife found under the seat of the car he was driving at the time of his arrest.

Chief of Police John J. Mitchell said a warrant charging Ramsey in connection with the death of 19-year-old Lena Davidson will be sought today against Ramsey. Miss Davidson was slain May 1 after returning from work alone late at night. Two weeks later Mrs. Opal Schellinger was attacked and her windpipe was severed, but her life was saved when she was rushed to city hospital.

Joining their husband and father in Coquille, Ore., to which place he has recently been transferred by the Swift company.

S-Sgt. Richard E. Witcig Visits Hitler's Home

S-Sgt. Richard E. Witcig of Sedalia, supply sergeant of the 371st medical battalion, stationed at Augsburg, Germany, tells in a letter of his recent trip to Munich and Berchtesgaden.

The sergeant, who went overseas in January of 1945, served with the armies of Generals Patch and Patton and was in Steyr, Austria, V-E day.

He is a brother of Mrs. Vincil Fry of Ottumwa, and Mrs. William Wade, Mrs. T. N. Cowan and Mrs. Blanche Cooper, all of Sedalia.

The letter follows:

"26 June, '45.

"Well, I am back from my trip and I mean to tell you that I had a swell time. I spent three days on the trip. It centered around the Third Army rest center of Berchtesgaden, Germany, Hitler's home, and the most beautiful spot of all Europe. On the way up, I visited the Beer Hall in Munich where Hitler got his start and then went on to Berchtesgaden.

Stood In Hitler's Study

"As soon as we arrived we went to Army Headquarters. This includes Hitler's home, Goering's home, the SS barracks and Administrative buildings of the German army. This part is in ruins. It has been thoroughly bombed out by our air force. I stood in the huge window of Hitler's study and looked out at the Alps mountains and they are very beautiful. I never dreamed, back in my civilian days, when I read about Hitler, that I would someday stand in his study and gaze out at the Alps mountains.

"We then retired to our quarters and the next morning we were up early and went to the 'Garden.' The Kendege sea is a large and very beautiful lake, the playground of Germany. We started the morning with a cruise around the lake in Hitler's private launch then dinner, and in the afternoon, swimming, playing with a row boat, and sun bathing on a beach.

Red Cross Was There

"We then went to the Red Cross club, had coffee and cake, took in a movie, and went to our quarters. The entire area is so beautiful that even adjectives in the superlative degree cannot describe it. On the trip around the lake, I just sat there with my mouth open drinking in all the pretty scenery.

"The third day we went driving around and then went to a concentration camp at Dachau. I know that you have seen the pictures of those camps—well, I saw it in person. It is a very large place and has a large SS barracks. Persons are executed in two ways. They have a pen where they shoot them and then they throw them on a rack to drain the blood out before they cremate the bodies. Then, if they have a large group, say several thousand, or any number over a hundred, they herd them into a room and turn in poison gas.

Piles of Bodies

"The room is very complete—windows for observation and fans to blow out the gas when all of them are dead. Then they pile the bodies in a large room where they remove gold teeth for the gold, and they go to the ovens as fast as they can handle them. You can see by the blood and hair on the walls that the bodies have been stacked ten feet high. The smell is something that is hard to describe—we won't go into that.

"There are seven ovens to burn the bodies. Their capacity must be 100 an hour and they run them 24 hours a day. The ashes and bones are piled up in back of the place and you can see all kinds of human bones out there.

"Make no mistake! Hitler and his group were f. Ients! They are, I believe, the greatest murderers history has even known and their desire was to eliminate entire races of people. All through the camp no one talked above a whisper—it was a sight such as you see only in your wildest dreams. "We came back on the Autobahn (super highway) and it was a very good road. I arrived back at

Here's A NEW WAY to control Cecal Coccidiosis

Year after year, chick raisers have been asking us how they could PREVENT Bloody Coccidiosis. Until recently we knew of no effective way by which this could be done.

Now, thanks to over six years of scientific research by Dr. Salsbury Laboratories, there's a new, easy, economical way to keep CECAL (Bloody) COCCIDIOSIS from spreading through your flock. Simply dissolve 2 Dr. Salsbury's REN-O-SAL tablets in every gallon of your chicks drinking water up to ten consecutive days if necessary. Can be used in any type of drinking fountain, even metal.

We have Dr. Salsbury's Ren-O-Sal and will gladly explain its use.

Merry-Go-Round

by DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON, July 11—The District of Columbia looks more like a peacetime capital this summer than in many years. . . . For the first time since the war, the house is now planning a long recess. . . . This reflects increased congressional confidence in the new White House setup, also the fact that many a legislator yearns for home. . . . The dollar-a-year men and brass hats who planned to check out after Germany's defeat haven't started their exodus. Instead they've been joined by hundreds of business men who've moved in to get their reconversion headaches unsnarled. . . .

Thousands of returning officers and enlisted men from Europe have added to the housing and feeding problem. Parking spaces along the Potomac are crowded on hot nights with GI Joes and GI Janes and government workers searching for a cool breeze. Washington is more peaceful, but still jammed.

Adding to the crush are the Truman boys who have descended on Washington. . . . They fall into three categories: (1) the Missouri boys, friends of Truman and Bob Hannegan looking for jobs, patronage and the juicy political plums. . . . (2) The Pauley boys from Southern California—friends of former Democratic treasurer Ed Pauley who've rushed into town to climb on the gravy train. They're brash and crude for the most part, have little respect for the taxpayers' money and already have their eyes on the gilded dome of the capitol. Third group are the "Battery K" men. These are the World War I vets who saw service with Harry Truman in 1917-18. Most are satisfied with a brief "Hello" and a handshake from their hero. Others cling to the wrought iron gates of the White House, think that their comradeship with the new chief executive is a guarantee of a soft government job.

Truman Heyday
Truman's own aids in the White House are still impressed by their new surroundings. . . . Some feel that Truman's rise gives them a blank check to use his power for their own ends. . . . One youthful aid has been bragging about having Truman's political enemies shadowed, their wires tapped. . . . Truman, a sworn enemy of wire tapping when in the senate, will probably clip their wings soon. . . . Most powerful man in the Truman entourage is chubby, cigar smoking Brig. Gen. Harry Vaughan, one of the "Battery K" boys, who buzzes considerable advice into his chief's ear, but now finds it being accepted with less frequency. . . . The hangers-on are still having a field day around the White House.

Center of administration power has partly shifted from the White House to the second floor of the Mayflower hotel, where Bob Hannegan holds forth in Democratic headquarters. . . . Judge Welburn Mayock, the committee's new

LADY'S STOMACH WAS LIKE A GAS FACTORY; MEALS TURNED TO GAS

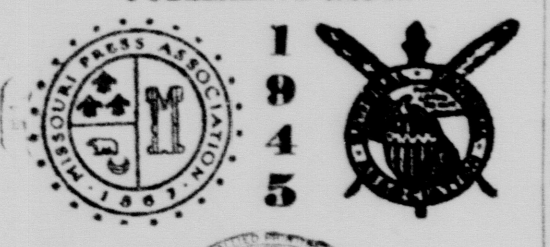

One lady said recently that her stomach used to be like a "gas factory." That is, when she ate a meal it seemed to turn right into gas. She was always bloated, had awful stomach gas pains, daily headaches and constant irregular bowel action. Now, however, this lady says she is FREE OF STOMACH GAS and she says the change is due to taking ERB-HELP. Her meals agree with her. No gas or bloating after eating. Headaches and constipation are gone. "Oh! what relief!" states this lady. "Why don't other gas and constipation sufferers get ERB-HELP?"

ERB-HELP contains 12 Great Herbs; they cleanse bowels, clear gas from stomach, act on sluggish liver and kidneys. Miserable people soon feel different all over. So don't go on suffering. Get ERB-HELP. Sold by all drug stores here in Sedalia.—Adv.

Kiss and Tell

by F. HUGH HERBERT

An Actual Movie Shooting Script

THE STORY: Corliss Archer and Mildred Pringle are not doing very well with the guest towel booth at a USO bazaar. Corliss decides there should be at least one towel sale in boy-friend Dexter Franklin. By the time she has finished fluttering her eyelashes at him, he agrees to buy five.

CORLISS' BOOTH REVERSE SHOT

We are now SHOOTING FROM INSIDE the booth ACROSS Corliss and Dexter TOWARDS a couple of nice-looking young soldiers who are standing on the other side of the aisle in the b. g., watching the proceedings.

Delighted with the sale she has made, Corliss grabs five guest towels from her display counter and reaches for a container in which to place them.
DEXTER: (grandy) Skip it. Sell 'em over. I wouldn't know what to do with 'em.
He shoves the five-dollar bill across the counter to her.
CORLISS: (gratefully) Thanks a million, Dexter! You're really very sweet.
Impulsively, she gives him a hearty kiss and gleefully rings up the sale on the cash register. Dexter is quite overcome with happiness.

CLOSE SHOT—THE TWO SOLDIERS IN THE BACKGROUND
They have watched the transaction with evident approval. The prospect of purchasing kisses from these attractive girls obviously appeals to them. Dexter walks through the Shot with a glance back at Corliss.
DEXTER: (deeply moved) Holy cow!
As Dexter disappears, the two soldiers step up to the counter.
MILDRED: (helpfully) Can I do anything for you boys?
The soldiers exchange eloquent looks.
FIRST SOLDIER: You sure can, sister! How much?
Assuming that the boy is referring to her guest towels, Mildred leans forward to display her merchandise.
MILDRED: Only a dollar.
SOLD SOLDIER: (cheerfully slapping down a dollar bill) Sold!

Without further ado, he kisses Mildred enthusiastically. Meanwhile, the second soldier, fumbling in his wallet, produces a fistful of crumpled dollar bills. Mildred indignantly shoves the boy away, and Corliss watches with wide-eyed fascination.
MILDRED: Why, you fresh thing! How dare you?
SECOND SOLDIER: (puzzled) He paid for it, didn't he?
FIRST SOLDIER: (grinning) And very nice, too! I think I'll have another.

Mildred backs away alarmed. The second soldier is grinning at Corliss.
SECOND SOLDIER: Okay, cutie pie—give me.
MILDRED: (indignant) Go away, both of you! You ought to be ashamed of yourselves!
FIRST SOLDIER: (puzzled)

general counsel, uses the office to lobby for California oil interests. . . . George Killiom, the new treasurer of the national committee, who has been using a meat-axe to collect money for the committee from business men may find himself chopped down soon. . . . One ardent Democratic supporter of many years' standing hearing about Killiom's tactics, said, "He'll collect so much money we'll lose in '48. Everyone contributing twice as much to the Republicans to boot the Pauley crowd out." Meanwhile little is happening to set the stage for Democratic victories in the congressional elections next year. . . . Hannegan is already in hot water with labor, particularly the CIO which he has been studiously ignoring. Labor leaders, who poured out millions to help Roosevelt last year, claim they can't even get a glass of water from the Democrats when it comes to bucking oppressive legislation in congress and are now making threats to move over to the GOP camp.

Republicans Harmonious
Further up Connecticut avenue at Republican headquarters things are harmonious. . . . The Republicans are sitting back, are quietly laying the groundwork for a high powered congressional race next November. . . . What they need most of all are some issues. . . . GOPsters, including Chairman Herbert Brownell, are confident they'll find plenty in a few months, are hoping that Truman stubs a few toes politically soon. . . . Republican Chairman Brownell has a million dollars to spend on the elections, but he's holding on to it, timing his shots so they'll do the most good.

Truman's cabinet changes thus far have been extremely popular. . . . Tall, scholarly new labor secretary Schwelienbach has made scores of friends for his department, has infused new life among its weary employees, has made an A-1 impression on congress with his departmental reorganization plan. . . . Schwelienbach eats in the departmental cafeteria, rides the regular elevators, and walks around the department casually, keeping a close eye on things. . . . Before he's through, Schwelien-

CORLISS: (virtuously) Personally, I'm perfectly willing to sacrifice myself for a good cause and sell kisses.

What's the matter? You're selling kisses, aren't you?
MILDRED: What? You must be crazy!
FIRST SOLDIER: We saw her sell 'em to that boy just now.
MILDRED: Oh, don't be silly! That was her boyfriend, Dexter—he lives next door.

The soldiers realize that there has been some mistake.
FIRST SOLDIER: (scooping up his dollar—with a disarming grin) Well, I'm sorry, Miss. We thought—
Corliss is motioning Mildred to come into a huddle in the rear of the booth.
CORLISS: (urgently) Mildred, c'mere a sec. (to the soldiers) Don't go away, boys.

WIDER ANGLE
During the girls' discussion in the rear of the booth, the two young soldiers have been joined by three or four of their buddies, and all of them are now ranged along the counter, hopefully waiting. As the huddle breaks up and Corliss and Mildred come back to the counter obviously ready to sacrifice themselves for the Red Cross, they are greeted by enthusiastic whistles.

RAYMOND'S BOOTH MEDIUM SHOT
Dexter is just returning to the booth, still glowing with the memory of Corliss' furtive kiss.
RAYMOND: (cynically) Well, what did Corliss want?
DEXTER: I got hooked for five towels!
RAYMOND: (pitily) There's one born every minute.

The surplus property board is still waiting for its new chairman to replace outgoing Senator Guy Gillette. Meanwhile, the board has worked out several first rate plans for using government surpluses.
Cities, towns and villages which are short on medical facilities will be given whole hospital units—including surgical equipment and beds—after the war, at federal expense. They're going to be distributed through the U. S. public health service. . . . Schools will get thousands of surplus army radios as a gift of the government. . . . Right now any school anxious to teach aviation can get a surplus B-26 bomber for $300 plus transportation. . . . One big surplus-property headache is brass hats' fear of junking anything. . . . Warehouses full of surpluses pile up storage charges because no one has the nerve to declare it junk.

Vinson's predecessor, Henry Morgenthau, did not encourage dollar-a-year men, instead developed his own aids, few of whom are wealthy, all of whom are civil service employees. . . . Best example is smart, hard hitting asst. secretary Harry White who started at the bottom of the department, rose to a position as the nation's leading expert on international finance. . . . Ma Pettis said to Pa, "Did you hear that group of young boys tramping up the stairs and over to the Real Estate Board case on the second floor? It seems that one of these little boys on a previous visit to the courthouse had noticed that bomb or torpedo, or whatever it is, a long shell with tail fins on it. It is a relic of the biggest thing of its type used in the last World War. Now he had brought some of his companions to scoff at the backwardness of those dark ages, and to exult over the progress made in this war. One said, 'Why, this thing is only about three feet long including the fins, and only about six or eight inches in diameter. Did you see that picture in the paper of one of those Nazi V-2 rockets they were shooting across the channel into England?' The picture showed that they must be all of 25 feet long and have a diameter the height of a tall man and with fins almost twice that tall. And the paper said that each one weighs 15 tons! Then another little boy broke in to win unanimous approval with the boast, 'Aw, that won't be nothing compared to the big ones we Americans can make! "Pa," Ma Pettis said, "I'm wondering . . . Just what is progress?"

ONE school child out of five on the average, has defective eyesight. And the percentage mounts to 4 out of 10 at college age! No parent can afford to neglect eyesight.
Even in these critical, busy days anyone can take these four simple precautions against eyestrain. Read them carefully and teach them to your children. Eyesight is too precious to risk.

- 1 Do all reading, studying, sewing, or game-playing close to a good light source, preferably a modern reading lamp.
- 2 Avoid glare from bare bulbs. Don't sit facing the light. Glare strains eyes.
- 3 Avoid shadows. Make sure you have good light directly on your book or work. Shadows strain eyes.
- 4 Have eyes examined regularly. If eyes are defective, vision can be greatly helped with proper glasses.

When the war is over we are all going to have Better Light for Better Sight. In the meantime, let's conserve both eyesight and light. Take care of your eyes, but don't waste light.

Japs Damage the Dickerson Severely, it was Sunk Next Day

WASHINGTON, July 11—(AP)—The navy today told how three Japanese fighter-bombers damaged the transport Dickerson so badly off Okinawa April 2 she had to be sunk the next day. Loss of the 25-year-old Dickerson, with 51 killed or missing and 15 wounded, had been announced previously. The craft, a high-speed converted destroyer, carried a crew of approximately 150. The trio of two-engined Japanese planes attacked at 6:30 p. m. and within 2½ hours the Dickerson was a charred, useless hull. While one of the enemy planes loosed its bombs from overhead, another sped on from the stern, clipped the No. 1 stack, tore a gaping hole in the No. 2 stack and crashed into the bridge, killing all the men in the forecabin and knocking out the forward guns. Abandoned Ship "The ship was ruptured in several places, the bridge was destroyed and serious fires spread," the navy said. "Gas and flames quickly swept the bridge and well deck, causing explosions from the ready ammunition boxes." Lt. (jg) Lafayette G. Howard, Jr., engineering officer of Gasconade, Mo., was below in an engine room at the time of the crash and to him "it felt like we had hit bottom." When the Dickerson finally

Prairie Ridge Club Met On July 4

The Prairie Ridge 4-H club met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Chamberlain on Wednesday, July 4. The roll call was answered by each member telling a health rule. W. C. Hayes, Clinton Reid and Forrest Eugene Reid gave talks about 4-H play day. Betty Chamberlain and Loretta Hayes gave demonstrations on how to upholster a chair seat. The group sang songs and played games, after which the meeting was adjourned and Mrs. Chamberlain served refreshments.

stopped dead in the water, the order to abandon ship was given. The Dickerson was towed to Kerama where an inspection showed she was beyond salvage, the navy said. The following morning, guns of other ships sent her to the bottom.

Baby Stolen From Hospital Is Returned

Woman Declared She Had Given Birth to it

MARION, O., July 11—(P)—Even the close friends of Mrs. Phyllis Lanman believed she was going to have a baby, it was related today after an infant in her possession was revealed as the missing Jean Eileen Creviston. The eight-day-old girl, who had been taken from a hospital crib Sunday night, was restored late yesterday to her mother, Mrs. John L. Creviston, Marion socialite.

Mrs. Lanman, the 29-year-old childless wife of a Mansfield candy salesman, is in a hospital, recovering from a semi-hysterical shock that accompanied her confession to taking the child, Police Chief William E. Marks said.

A medical examination which showed she had not experienced childbirth recently and a study of the baby's footprints broke down Mrs. Lanman's story that blue-eyed, dark haired Jean was hers. Before that, her friends were highly indignant after police had summoned an ambulance and took her to a hospital for the examination.

Mr. and Mrs. Carrol Rowley, with whom she lived, told newspaper men they were convinced by the woman's appearance and actions that she was pregnant. Bought Baby Clothes She had experienced a miscarriage—her second—three months ago, and had not informed friends. Recently she had bought a bassinet, baby clothes and a small dresser.

Checking the accounts of her apparent pregnancy, police chief Marks said he recovered from her room a batch of cotton padding. Marks said Mrs. Lanman insisted she really did not intend to take a child when she went to the city hospital nursery. "After I looked at them (the babies)" he quoted her, "I decided to take the baby I got. I didn't know whose baby it was."

She went home, a signed confession stated, undressed the child, went to bed, informed her landlady that she had given birth to a child and asked her to summon a physician. Enroute home she had stopped at a neighbor's to change Jean's diaper. The diaper, turned over to police by the neighbor, provided the first clue that led to her arrest.

David Johnson, a Benton county feeder and shipper, had a load of hogs of his own raising and feeding on the St. Louis market yesterday that averaged 235 pounds and sold at $5.75, near the top of the market. Mr. Johnson reports prospects good for a splendid corn crop as they have had plenty of rain—a little too much for threshing.

Capt. Stuhman Has War Medal

The following article concerning Capt. Jerry Stuhman, who was born in Cole Camp, later moving to Blackburn, a brother of Mrs. H. A. Williams, 1002 South Grand avenue, appeared in the Marshall paper, The Daily Democrat News: "With the 17th Airborne Division in Germany—For gallantry in action during the bitter fighting around the Belgian Bulge where the Nazis suddenly exploded a winter offensive, Capt. Jerry Stuhman, 32, of Blackwater, Mo., received the Silver Star Medal at ceremonies recently in Mulheim, Germany.

"The presentation was made by a staff officer of the 14th Glider Infantry Regiment of the 17th Airborne Division, now part of Lieut. Gen. Leonard T. Gerow's Fifteenth Army.

"The captain flew with his unit from England to help form the Meuse River defenses when the enemy salient threatened to overrun the sector and fought throughout the subsequent campaign, during which he was wounded, that pressed the wehrmacht back to its Siegfried protection.

"Capt. Stuhman, who wears the Purple Heart and Combat Infantryman Badge, entered the service in March, 1942, and received his commission in March, 1943."

Labor Dispute Holds up Milk Delivery

Half Million Did Not Get Regular Supply Today

By the Associated Press A labor dispute in Detroit, one of a score across the country which kept some 50,000 men and women off their jobs, prevented an estimated half million persons from getting their regular supply of milk today.

For the third straight day, deliveries of 30 per cent of the motor city's milk supply were tied up by a walkout of 1,000 creamery company employees. Efforts were pushed to end the stoppage, but CIO United Dairy Workers officials said no home deliveries would be made before tomorrow, should a settlement be effected today.

Other labor disputes, some of long duration, affected the fuel and arms industries. In Detroit alone controversies curtailed or halted operations in six separate plants involving more than 8,000 workers.

The striking CIO United Dairy Workers in Detroit are to vote today on the proposal to go back to work and their local president, Russell Ballard, said he would urge ending the walkout. The regional war labor board issued a back to work order and Chairman Louis C. Miriani asserted he "was amazed that this insignificant matter can endanger the welfare of 500,000 people."

Strikes at Four Plants Other stoppages in Detroit were at four war plants, with 6,400 CIO United Automobile Workers off their jobs, and at 12 lumber yards idling 700 AFL workers.

There were disputes involving CIO oil and gas workers in the United Fuel Gas company serving six eastern states; United Mine Workers at five mines in Pennsylvania and Ohio; shipbuilding employees in New Jersey and workers on B-29 bombers in Chicago.

The country's largest single strike was the 11-day walkout by 16,500 CIO United Rubber Workers at the Firestone Tire and Rubber company in Akron, O.

The Sedalia (Mo.) Democrat Wednesday Evening, July 11, 1945

Three strikes were settled yesterday; others which have been in progress for a week or longer continued with no immediate indication of settlement.

170,025 Fans See Two-Day Exhibitions

Seven-game Charity Program Nets War Relief $225,000

By the Associated Press
Major leagues hit the road today toward another interseasonal series after winding up a seven-game charity program that netted war relief organizations more than $225,000. Action will be resumed Thursday.

Crowds totalling 170,025 turned out for the two-days of exhibitions with the American league grabbing five of the seven decisions. Largest gathering was Monday's turnout of 47,144 at Chicago but Boston club officials estimated their afternoon game yesterday realized approximately $70,000 although only 22,800 paid to watch it. Forty-four Bostonians paid $1,000 each for as many box seats.

Dave Ferriss confined his pitching to the righthanded variety and kept Tommy Holmes from getting a hit in three innings but the Braves flycatcher got his daily single later on. Randy Hefflin and Clem Hausmann jobbed up on the Braves, after Ferriss finished, to give the Red Sox an easy 8-1 victory.

As an added feature of the Fenway park game, site of the 1945 All-Star tilt called off by the ODT, the Tobin brothers put on their family act with infielder Jack of the Red Sox nipping brother Jim of the Braves for a cheap single.

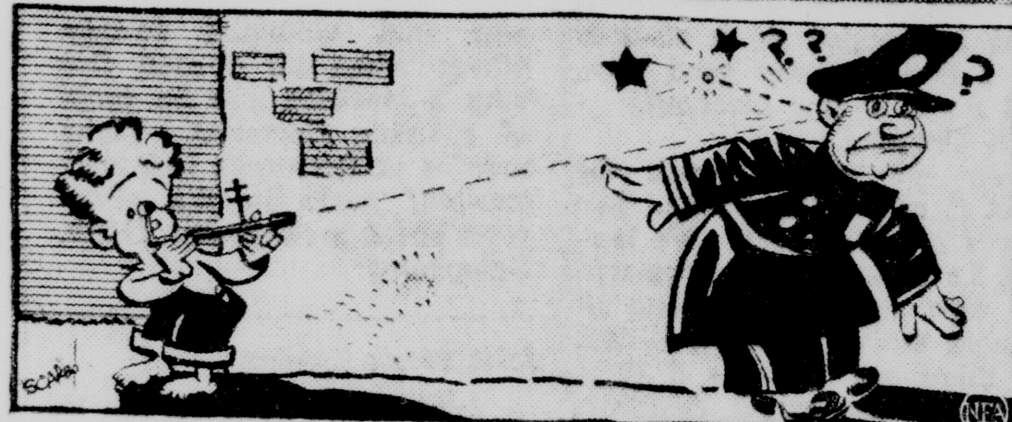

Bert Shepard, one-legged war veteran, tossed four innings in his first mound appearance for the Washington Senators to get credit for a 4-3 edge over Brooklyn in a tilt that attracted 23,791 fans and $22,760.

Luke Sewell gave the St. Louis Cardinals a look at his Brownie pitching staff, using one an inning and the nine hurlers blanked the world champions with two hits, 3-0, before 24,113. A double by Red Schoendienst and Ray Sanders' single were the only safe blows. One of the tossers was Pete Appleton, making his first appearance since leaving the navy.

In the battle of the cellar clubs, the Phillies nosed out the Athletics in Philadelphia, 7-6, with only 4,635 fans on hand. Jimmy Fox made his major league debut as a pitcher but was slugged off the hill when the A's counted six times in the fifth.

NEW YORK, July 11 (AP)—Abe Greene, the National Boxing Association president, suggests "grading" boxers the same way baseball players are graded—that is ranging from major leaguers down to class "D" and "E"... "As it is now," says Abe, "a boxer can be a preliminary boy in one state and a finalist in another."... That condition likely would not be changed by any system of classification as long as 20,000 fans will pay up to $15 a ticket in one place while other cities are in the $1.50 class, but Abe still has a good idea about keeping the records straight and assigning fighters to definite grades... Navy Lt. Joe Orsini recently proposed a system of record cards, but Greene points out that it would be necessary for all states to adopt this system and from New

McIntyre And Eckert In A Draw Match

Estep Wins Match From Parker; Meyers Wins From Roth

The wrestling matches at the State Guard armory Tuesday night proved interesting and thrilling, but state wrestling played a part in decisions of two matches, while the Eckert-McIntyre match was called a draw. The main event ended abruptly during the time for the third fall when Ray Eckert and Don McIntyre crashed head on, and both wrestlers were counted out by referee Harry Cohen.

Eckert took the first fall of the main event in 20 minutes and 48 seconds, using a series of the rolling head locks, after which he pinned the Otterville boy to the mat. The second fall took six minutes and five seconds for McIntyre to pin the Californian, after he used a series of flying tackles and two body slams followed with a body smother.

Eight minutes and ten seconds of the third fall had elapsed when McIntyre trying a flying butt crashed head on with Eckert. Eckert went through the ropes to the concrete floor and McIntyre laid on the canvas while Cohen counted the necessary twenty.

Marshall Estep won his match with Jimmy Parker, when he took the first fall of their 45-minute time limit match in 39 minutes. Estep used two flying tackles, two drop kicks followed with the body smother. The time lapsed during the second fall, and by virtue of the state rule, Estep was given the match.

In the preliminary match Harold "Sonny" Meyers won over Charles "Chuck" Roth, in 18 minutes and five seconds, when Roth failed to break upon orders of the referee and the state law of a count of five was made. When he failed to turn Meyers loose at the end of five, Cohen awarded the match to Meyers. That is also a Missouri law.

Roth put on his best show Tuesday night in his three appearances in Sedalia.

Next Tuesday soldiers at the Sedalia Army Air Field will be treated to some instructions in wrestling holds, when Marshall Estep and Harold "Sonny" Meyers will appear at the SAAF gym. They were invited to the base by Lieut. N. L. Thomas, public relations officer.

A team match is to be staged next week at the armory, the last wrestling matches for this season. At this time Eckert and "Chuck" Roth will team against McIntyre and Estep. This type of a match is a novel one and is filled with thrills from start to finish.

A preliminary match will also be staged preceding the team match. Gus Karis, matchmaker announced Tuesday night.

of the Senators, played a couple of innings for old times sake.

At bat Shepard struck out twice but went down taking a healthy cut both times. In this, the fans were disappointed because they wanted to see him run the bases which Bert has said he can circle in 16 seconds.

In order to pitch this game, Shepard passed up an opportunity to fly back to Europe to dedicate an army playing field being named in his honor, but he unquestionably feels today that he made a wise decision.

You'll probably be seeing his name in American league box scores from now on, either as a starting pitcher or in a relief role.

Pete Gray Has A Baseball Rival

WASHINGTON, July 11 (AP)—Pete Gray, one-armed outfielder of the St. Louis Browns, may as well move over and make room for Bert Shepard, one-legged war veteran pitcher of Washington's Senators.

Shepard proved last night that he can pitch major league ball by hurling the first four innings in the Senators' 4-3 victory over the Brooklyn Dodgers in an inter-league war relief game.

Like Gray in St. Louis, Shepard made a tremendous hit with the near-capacity throng of approximately 24,000 who paid more than $22,000 into the relief fund.

Shepard handled himself so well that most of the fans went home not knowing from his action which leg he lost below the knee (his right) when shot down as a fighter pilot in aerial battle over Berlin.

In full four innings, the stout-hearted young southpaw turned the slugging Dodgers back with only two runs, left the game with a 3-2 lead and went down in the record as the winning pitcher.

Shepard exhibited surprising control. He walked only one batter, Manager Leo Durocher, first up in the opening inning. Durocher, like Manager Ossie Bluege

Limit Dress Prints In Bags

WASHINGTON, July 11.—(AP)—The War Production Board had good news Tuesday for farm women who convert fancy feed bags into dresses, dish towels and other household articles.

Instead of prohibiting the use of dress print material in feed bags, as had been considered, the agency established what it called "practical limits."

The order limits a bag manufacturer's quarterly use of dress prints either to the amount he used in the corresponding quarter of 1944, or 25 per cent of the amount he used in the entire year 1944.

WPB said the ceiling on the use of dress material was necessary because the shortage of textile bags makes it necessary to reuse them to the greatest possible extent. And a feed bag made into a dress no longer is useable as a feed bag.

Belgian Town Pretty, Homer DeWitt Writes

T/S Homer Dewitt, in the following letter to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Willes Dewitt of Beaman, has related experiences of his trip to Belgium:

"Dear Dad and Mom: I will tell you about coming over. I left Ft. Lewis, near Tacoma, Wash., the 20th of January. It took us six days to reach New York. From there we went to Camp Kilmer, N. J., and stayed until February 1 when we got on the ship and put out the second. The name of the ship was Lal de French, the third biggest in the world, so I was told. It took eight or nine days to come across. The meals on the boat were not as good as the ones I was used to. A lot of the boys got seasick but it didn't bother me much. We landed at Glasgow, Scotland and went from there to Banberry, England, where we stayed two weeks. While there, I went to London on a 48-hour pass. I had a pretty good time, but at night it was blackout.

Rough Crossing
"When we came across the channel it was pretty rough. The boat was a Polish boat. We landed at Le Havre. That place was really torn up. It was one of the places they crossed on D-day. From there we went to a little town in France called Declair. We were at a camp called Twenty Grand for about two weeks. We slept in tents all the time and it was pretty cold. From there I went seven miles the other side of Paris to the 191st General hospital as a medical specialist. I didn't see much of Paris.

"I am now in Venus, Belgium, which is the prettiest place I have ever seen. I have seen places that were really torn up but Paris was never hurt by bombs. "When I was in London, there were a few V-2 bombs still coming over. You could hear them for a long way. Parts of London were torn up pretty bad. "Well, I guess that is about all so will close for this time. "As ever, lots of love, "Your son, Homer."

Indications For Low Corn Yield
WASHINGTON, July 11.—(AP)—Government hopes of a sharp expansion in livestock production next year were blasted today by an official crop report indicating that production of livestock feed grains may be the smallest of the war.

This year's grain will form the bulk of the livestock feed supply for the greater part of 1946.

The report, issued by the agriculture department, said the total production of all feed grains—corn, oats and grain sorghums—is now indicated to be the smallest since 1941. A bumper yield will be needed to permit expansion in hog numbers, larger production of poultry and feeding of beef cattle to heavier weights.

On the basis of conditions on July 1, the vital corn crop was forecast at 2,685,828,000 bushels or 543,000,000 bushels less than last year's record crop. A crop of the size indicated would be only slightly larger than the 10 year (1934-43) average of 2,433,060,000 bushels. Corn is the backbone of the livestock industry. Unfavorable weather during the planting season has cut down production prospects.

COLUMBIA, Mo., July 10.—(AP)—Missouri's corn crop was estimated at 47 per cent normal in the federal-state cooperative crop report released today. The indicated production is the lowest yield since 1935 was 104,424,000 bushels, compared to 162,554,000 bushels last year.

The wheat crop was estimated at 25,200,000 bushels for the state, compared with 23,800,000 bushels a year ago.

Oats production was indicated at 35,156,000 bushels compared with 29,970,000 bushels a year ago.

The report stated corn acreage in Missouri has declined by 430,000 acres and the acreage in oats has declined 67,000 acres. Wheat was up 280,000 acres and soybean planting up 112,000 acres.

Wm. H. Owen is Commissioned

William H. Owen of 1300 South Ohio street, Sedalia, Mo., was commissioned as a second lieutenant in the Corps of Military Police of the Army of the United States at Camp Bullis, school branch of Fort Sam Houston, Texas, at the graduation of the 34th Officers Candidate Class of the Provost Marshal General's School June 30. He was one of 118 new officers, representing every state in the union, to take the oath and don shiny new gold bars at the conclusion of a grueling 17 weeks' course at the school.

The graduates were addressed by Major General William G. Weaver, commanding general of the Eighth Infantry Division during its European operations, and Colonel I. B. Summers, commandant of the school, presented the diplomas.

In civil life before entering the army Lieutenant Owen was a trooper—Missouri State Highway Patrol and prior to receiving his

Near Double Bonds Quota

All-Time Record of
$26,313,000,000
Given as the Total

WASHINGTON, July 11.—(AP)—Final figures in the Seventh war loan showed Tuesday night that U.S. piled up a fabulous, all-time record amount of $26,313,000,000, nearly double the $14,000,000,000 quota.

Henry Morgenthau, Jr. announced the final results in what he called his "valedictory" speech as secretary of the treasury.

The E-bond goal of $4,000,000,000 was narrowly missed.

Sales of E bonds totaled $3,976,000,000. But this was above any other drive. The previous E bond record was $3,187,000,000 in the fourth war loan early in 1944.

Sales to individuals were $8,631,000,000, compared with a quota of $7,000,000,000.

Morgenthau, speaking over the radio, thanked all war bond workers for their cooperation throughout seven bond drives and declared:

"I know your cooperation will be continued with the same devotion and zeal under the able leadership of my successor, Judge Fred Vin-

Burns Fatal At State's Prison

JEFFERSON CITY, July 11.—

(AP)—Lester Yeats died Monday night in the Missouri penitentiary hospital of burns suffered in a blast of fire and steam in a prison powerhouse a few hours earlier.

Warden T. E. Whitecotton, reporting the accident Tuesday, said an old tube in the boiler blew out, spraying Yeats with fire as he sat in front of the fire door. He blamed the accident on equipment which had deteriorated.

Yeats was sentenced March 26, 1945, in Jackson county to a two year term for burglary.

son. There is still a titanic task before us."

Morgenthau resigned his post last Thursday but will not leave the cabinet until President Truman returns from Europe.

Morgenthau said he takes pride in the knowledge the war has been financed by wholly Democratic means. He said "there has been no resort at any time to coercion or intimidation or social pressure."

"UNBLOCK" YOUR DIGESTIVE TRACT

And Stop Dosing Your Stomach With Soda and Alkalizers

Don't expect to get real relief from headache, sour stomach, gas and bad breath by taking soda and other alkalizers if the true cause of your trouble is constipation.

In this case, your real trouble is not in the stomach at all. But in the intestinal tract where 80% of your food is digested. And where it gets blocked when it fails to digest properly.

Thus, what you want for real relief is not soda or an alkalizer—you want something to "unblock" your intestinal tract. Something to clean it out thoroughly and help Nature get back on her feet.

Get Carter's Pills right now. Take them as directed. They gently and thoroughly "unblock" your digestive tract. This permits your food to move along normally. Nature's own digestive juices can then reach it—and you get genuine relief that makes you feel really good again.

Get Carter's Pills at any drugstore—25¢. "Unblock" your intestinal tract for real relief from indigestion.
